Telecom Italia (TIM) has teamed up with Rome-based non-profit organisation Fondazione Mondo Digitale (FMD) to set up an immersive summer camp for students in the capital. A total of 20 students have been selected for the first camp running from 18 to 24 June at FMD's headquarters, where they will be trained in new digital technologies using innovative learning processes. The initiative is part of TIM's School-Work Alternation programme in 24 schools across 10 Italian cities that has so far trained over 600 students in digital skills.
